Today’s Program: Chamber of Commerce – Small Business Awards

Next Week: Superintendent Don Raw – School Budget

Meeting – April 29, 2010

Pledge: President Jack

Invocation: John Spare

Song: “God Bless America: led by Dick Joseph

Remembrances: Chloe Platou’s services will be at the Congregational Church, Saturday, May 8th at 2 PM.

- Charlie Lyman is at FFTH but we hope he will be home by the time you read this. A card was circulated.
- PDG Jim Holden was with us once again and amused us with a “revealing” story regarding his pants at the District Conference.

Guests: Ken Poole introduced his wife, Cindy.

- Dick McGavern had Meg Ewing as a guest.

Visiting Rotarians: There were no visiting Rotarians.

Exchange Students: Pia and Adam had a blast in Albany. They saw many friends and exchange students. All of our district Exchange Students performed a service project at Washington Park in Albany. The Capitol District appreciated our youth and publicized the project in the paper.

Announcements: There will be no morning meeting on May 27th as we will all be working the Ziti Dinner.

- Bob Palumbo is circulating a sign up sheet for the Ziti Dinner. Let’s make this a 100% participation project.
- The Four Way Test Committee is asking for nominations. This year, we are beginning to present an award to the Rotarian Rookie of the Year.
- Rod Smith reminds us that there is space

Fines: Dick McGavern paid for a trip to Allentown and Yorkville. Pennsylvania did not used to count as a trip for fine purposes.

- Steve Flamini and wife made a 6 week trip to San Diego and Arizona to visit children. Now that is worth a fine!!
- Bruce Kennedy’s cell phone reached out and touched someone. Bruce paid five bucks.
- Roc Pietropaolo celebrated Earth Day with his picture in the paper.
- Brian Kelly forgot his important Rotary mail last week and Pres. Jack was happy to sell it to Brian for a fee.
- Dick McCaughey celebrated his news of daughter and son both travelling to Singapore for work.
- Peter Heinrich shared news of Bob Lambrix. Bob will be leaving the area and made a donation of $750 to Camp Onseyawa.

Other Business: Meg Ewing joined us to present the Wood Library Capital Campaign. The $4,000,000 project has been helped by a $15,000 contribution by the Canandaigua Rotary Club. The library has set a community goal of an additional $300,000 by May 31st and volunteers will be blanketing the community.

Program: Dr. Dennis Boike spoke on the state of our personal and community health. The basic two fundamentals of our life are to be felt loved with a sense of belonging and to feel significant and purposeful in life. In America, we have lost our feeling of security, safety and a sense of belonging. To compensate, many try to be overly successful in their careers and use the workplace as substitute for love and family. Dr. Boike urges a return to basics in family and service. People are lonely and need the extended
