BARNS, BARNS, BARNS.

Ray was introduced by Ed. Ray has had an interest in barns since childhood. He remembers his grandfather’s barn so well. There at least 1300 barns in Ontario County that are 100 years old. Ray has seen most of them.

The classical “English Barn” was illustrated by Ray. It was simple, practical, and open for thrashing. Yet, it could board some livestock. Fire, neglect, and encroachment by home development are the “grim reapers” of these old barns. The modern dairy barn is a far cry from these classics.

The OCHS is having its fifth Barn Tour on Saturday October 2. It will feature the barns along historic Preemption Road in eastern Ontario County. Ray showed slide of various barns that were high-lighted on the previous four barn tours.

Call the OCHS at 585-394-4975 for more details.

The 50/50-

One of our speakers, Ed Varno, had the # 1 ticket. Sorry, Ed. The 2 of spades gets nothing.

Tom Meese, along with that gang that call themselves the Syndicate, won $22. Is there something fishy about this group? They won last week.

Rotary Picnic- September 19th.
